DAVIDSON COLLEGE.

DAVIDSON COLLEGE is in Mecklenburg County, North Carolina. It is twenty miles north of Charlotte and twenty-five miles south of Statesville; and, being immediately on the line of The Atlantic, Tennessee, and Ohio Rail-road, is of ready and comfortable access at all times. Its numerous buildings contain spacious Chapels, Society-halls, and Lecture-rooms, together with pleasant dormitories sufficient for a large number of students. Its Libraries, Cabinets, and Apparatus are well provided for, and are constantly receiving accessions, so that the means for securing a liberal education at Davidson College are surpassed by few institutions in our country. The site of the College and of the adjacent village is remarkably healthy, being free from malaria and other local causes of sickness. The adjacent counties are so thickly settled with a population widely and honorably known for its intelligence, morality, and thriftiness, that the means of living at the college are cheap and abundant, and temptations to students to form vicious or extravagant habits are carefully guarded against.

Although organized and controlled by Presbyterians, the instruction at Davidson College is not sectarian, but such as can be freely and equally offered to all students of good moral character and of proper mental qualifications. The institution was chartered "to educate youth of all classes, without regard to the distinction of religious denominations, and thereby promote the more general diffusion of knowledge and virtue;" and its founders have frequently and publicly declared that their design was "to extend the blessings of a liberal education to all classes of the community prepared to enjoy them."

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

No one will be admitted as a student of the College without producing testimonials of good moral character, and also a certificate of honorable dismissal from the last school or college which he has attended.

CANDIDATES FOR THE FRESHMAN CLASS are examined in the following books and subjects: English Grammar, Ancient and Modern Geography, Arithmetic, Algebra to equations of the second degree, Latin Grammar, (Bingham's preferred), five books of Caesar, six books of the Æneid of Virgil, Cicero's Select Orations, Greek Grammar, Greek Reader, and the first two books of the Anabasis of Xenophon.

ADVANCED STANDING.—All candidates for advanced standing, whether from other colleges or not, in addition to the preparatory studies, are examined on those previously pursued by the classes which they propose to enter. Resident graduates may at any time avail themselves of the advantages of the College without any charge for tuition.

AGE.—No one can ordinarily be admitted to the Freshman Class till he has completed his fourteenth year, nor to an advanced standing without a proportional increase of age.

All college dues for the term must be paid in advance.

On entrance each student will be required to give a pledge of honor faithfully to observe and obey all the laws and regulations of the College while he continues a member of it.

Students not wishing to take a regular course, but to acquire a knowledge of particular branches, may be permitted to do so at the discretion of the Faculty; but they will be subject to the same laws and regulations of the College, as are the regular students.

CLASSICAL COURSE OF INSTRUCTION.

This course occupies four years. The following scheme presents a general view of the studies pursued in each term of each collegiate year. But the hours of recitation have been so adjusted that any student may recite with the classes of two consecutive years.

SCIENTIFIC COURSE OF INSTRUCTION.

This course occupies three years and embraces all that is in the Classical Course, except the Latin and Greek languages, together with some studies peculiar to itself. The Scientific Students and Classical Students recite together whenever their studies are the same, and they have the same number of recitations a week. At the end of this course students may, if their examinations have been approved, receive the degree of Bachelor of Science.

The requisites for admission to this Course are the same as for the Classical Course, with the exception of the Ancient Languages. The order of studies is as follows:

FIRST YEAR: The Bible.

English Grammar, English Composition, Declamation, Algebra and Geometry, with the FRESHMAN CLASS.
